- c. When a certificate is lost, this fact must be advertised in the newspapers and a new certificate applied for at the local police station.
- d. Certificates of those who die must be presented by their family for cancellation; certificates of those who permanently leave the area should be presented by such individuals for cancellation.
- e. Changes of address or profession must be reported within five days after the change is made.
- f. Forgery, alteration, or transfer of the cartificate is forbidden.
- g. The certificate is void without the steel seal.
- h. The family head must report to the police the presence of all guests without certificates. Failure to report this information will result in execution in serious cases; in less serious cases a fine equal to the official price of 150 piculs of rice as quoted in the Nan Fang Jih Pao will be imposed. A person unable to pay the fine must write 100 "letters of regret", attach his photo to each, and paste copies on street walls.
- i. In order to check on families and to prevent the infiltration of Canton by secret agents, meetings of family heads are called several times a week by neighborhood police stations or by the chiefs of the neighborhood associations.
- 4. After the completion of the land reform program at the end of 1951, residence certificates will be issued for all haien, towns and villages.
